This eco-tourism property is located within one (1) million acres of protected and intact tropical rain forest which was donated to the international community in 1989 by the Government of Guyana to demonstrate its commitment to combating climate change and to show how tropical forests could be used to provide economic benefits in a sustainable manner. ACTIVITIES AND TOURS

READ AND RELAX

You may want to spend a portion of your adventure by simply enjoying the peace and quiet of a pristine forest environment or taking advantage of the amenities at the River Lodge. You can enjoy the sounds and sights of birds and monkeys or reflect upon the dark and mysterious Essequibo River. Take a nap or read in one of the hammocks. There is also a small but expanding reference library and a tourism office with complimentary internet access.

BIRD WATCHING AT THE RIVER LODGE

With close to 500 species of birds in the Forest, Iwokrama is a birder's haven. Numerous bird species can be seen at the River Lodge including the colourful Scarlets as well as blue and green Macaws; various species of Parrots; and Toucans.

GUIDED TOURS

Iwokrama offers numerous tours and activities on land and in the river using professionally trained guides. A description of these tours and the prices follows:

Canopy Walkway

Departing 5am and 2pm Opened in November 2003, the 154 meter (505 ft.) state-of-the-art Canopy Walkway envelopes you in the jungle's mid-level canopy from heights of up to 30 meters (98 ft.). If you visit at dusk or dawn, you'll have the best chance to see birds like the Green Aracari, Scarlet Macaw, Guiana Toucanette or Channel-bill Toucan. Red Howler Monkeys may also be observed. Check out the epiphytes such as orchids and bromeliads and look for the amazing parasitic Ficus plant as it engulfs another tree. Ask your guide to show you the endemic Greenheart tree, the Waramadan (endemic in Guyana only to the Iwokrama Forest) and the poisonous Aromata! You can also spend the night at the nearby satellite camp and experience the "art of survival" with our knowledgeable guides. The Canopy Walkway is about 1 ½ hrs. drive from the Lodge hence a transfer cost is payable.

Guided Nature Walk

Explore one of the nearby wildlife trails near the Field Station with an experienced Iwokrama Guide. Ask your guide about the Mora, Soft Wallaba and Wamara trees and the Screaming Piha, the Grey Chinned Hermit, and the Black-necked Aracari. You might even spot Howler Monkeys or a Sloth.

Nocturnal Wildlife Spotting by Boat

Just imagine yourself cruising on the Essequibo River through the black of night, maybe lit only by a pale moon. Your guide shines the spotlight and there it is... the red-eye glare of the Black Caiman! Frequently and closely seen lying on the riverbanks; the world's largest of the alligator family grows to 6 meters (20 ft.) long. A boat ride at night may also introduce you to other nocturnal creatures such as Tree Boas, Pacas, Nightjars, and Hula tree frogs.

Indian Island Sunrise Boat Ride

At dawn you can take an early morning boat trip round Indian House Island. Ask your guide to show you the butterflies, snakes and macaws as they come out to have “breakfast” on the edge of the island.

Petroglyphs

During the low water season take a boat ride to visit the ancient petroglyphs near to fair View village. These stunning works of art are estimated to be over 6,000 years old.

Nocturnal Wildlife Spotting by Foot

Take a nocturnal guided nature walk from the Field Station; things to look out for are nocturnal creatures such as Boas, Pacas, Nightjars, and Hula tree frogs, bats and many other animals of the night.

Wildlife Spotting by Vehicle

This early morning or dusk activity involves taking a drive along the Iwokrama Rainforest passage in search of wildlife. The Iwokrama Forest is rapidly gaining an international reputation for its healthy Jaguar population that seems not to be troubled by the appearance of curious humans. No promises but many have been lucky.

Turtle Mountain and Stanley Lakes

A trip to Iwokrama is not complete without hike to the top of Turtle Mountain. Take a 30-40-minute boat journey downriver and then hike the 2-mile trail up to 300 metre (950ft) summit for a stunning jungle vista punctuated by the powerful Essequibo River snaking through the forest. Numerous bird species can be spotted on the lower trail including the Red-and-Black Grosbeak, Yellow-billed Jacamar, and Brown-bellied Antwren. The journey may also reward you with sightings of monkeys such as Red Howlers, Wedge-capped Capuchins and Black Spiders, as well as Agoutis and Deer. For those who may find the trip to Turtle Mountain too strenuous, continue the boat ride further downstream to a section of flooded várzea forest known as the Stanley Lakes. Here you traverse through a maze of small channels and oxbow lakes by boat as they pass through a palm-rich forest which is largely inaccessible by foot. You are likely to see river turtles as well as bird species such as Anhingas and Ospreys and the (very) occasional Harpy Eagle!

Canoe Ride

For a small rental fee enjoy a leisurely canoe ride on your own along frontage of the River Lodge, under the watchful eyes of one of the guides.

Prince Charles & Cock of the Rock Trail

The Prince Charles Nature Trail is located on the southern boundary of the Iwokrama forest and was created and named in honour of the Prince’s visit to this area in 2000. Here he signed the agreement to become Iwokrama’s Royal Patron under a towering Brazilian cedar. An 800 metre walk will take you through beautifully varied forest that connects with the 400 metres long Cock-of-the-Rock trail to form a loop. On the latter trail you will stop to investigate an active leak of the famous Guianan Cock-of-the-Rock with its luminous orange balls of feathers display among the boulder-strewn forested hillside which surely would be the highlight of the trip. The Cock of the Rock Trail is about 2 hrs. drive from the Lodge hence a transfer cost is payable.

Mori Scrub Trail

This sandy soil trail is located in an area along the main road and supports unique vegetation. This is a good place to look for Rufous-winged Ground-Cuckoo, Rufous-crowned Elaenia, Black Manakin, and Red-shouldered Tanager.
